

Professional IT Community Conference

May 7-8 2010

Hyatt Regency, New Brunswick, NJ

Fostering our local expert community ~ strengthening tomorrow's computing infrastructure

“Technical problems?

I use a search engine.

What I need is Community.”

Find it at LOPSA-NJ's PICC!

A gathering of people from the diverse IT community in New Jersey to learn, share ideas, and network.

The conference includes invited speakers and keynotes, top-notch training that is relevant, useful, and recession-friendly, as well as an “unconference” track where attendees propose and host their own topics.

Everyone is invited!

What's the #1 reason people are registering for PICC '10?

- "It's close, cheap and had training sessions/talks I was interested in. I know that's 3 but if I had to pick one, price made it easy to go to my manager without any issues getting approval."
- "Staying current in the IT Field, Seeing other aspects of my field, meeting other people in my field to learn from."

Training, Talks and Topics

Nationally known speakers:

- David Blank-Edelman, O'Reilly Author
 - Thomas A. Limoncelli, Author and Speaker, Google NYC
 - Eben Haber, IBM Research
 - Brian Jones, Sysadmin and Trainer
- And many more!

Topics:

- Storage
 - IPv6 Networking
 - New open source tools
 - Hot topics in Windows
 - Better Time management
 - Improved user support
- And much, much, more!

Multiple Tracks:

- Training: Professional training from nationally-known experts
- Talks and papers: Cutting edge topics, down-to-earth advice
- "Unconference": Community-driven topics, panels, and talk

Follow us on....

Facebook: <http://www.picconf.org/facebook> Twitter: <http://www.twitter.com/picconf>

<http://www.picconf.org>

"LOPSA-NJ is an organization for system administrators in New Jersey formed to facilitate information exchange pertaining to the field of system administration. LOPSA-NJ is not affiliated with a particular hardware or software vendor or company. Everyone is invited!" <http://www.lopsanj.org>

The League of Professional System Administrators (LOPSA) is a nonprofit corporation with members throughout the world. Our mission is to advance the practice of system administration; to support, recognize, educate, and encourage its practitioners; and to serve the public through education and outreach on system administration issues.